Analysis and priorities

IN ONE SENTENCE

Your CCPA/CPRA readiness score is 60.6% at level Developing; assign programme ownership immediately to close high priority gaps.

AI-assisted analysis, generated from the information the organization provided and checked automatically against the scores and findings in this report. It supports planning and is not an audit opinion; see "Basis of this report and limitation of liability".

FOR SENIOR MANAGEMENT AND THE BOARD

Our self assessment against the CCPA/CPRA places our readiness at 60.6%, which is classified as Developing. While parts of our programme operate well, we carry 33 open gaps, including 10 high priority items and insufficient evidence across many controls. Our main exposure lies in unaddressed governance, notice requirements, and consumer request mechanisms that could attract scrutiny from the California Privacy Protection Agency. We need executive support and resource allocation to assign owners, establish formal target dates, and deploy standard operating documentation.

WHERE YOU STAND

Your self assessment places your programme at a readiness level of 2 of 4, named Developing. You achieved an overall score of 60.6% across 45 applicable requirements. Out of 33 open gaps, 10 are high priority. Currently, 16 gaps have an owner assigned and only 5 have a target completion date. Your scores range widely across control areas, with service providers leading at 93.8% and notices and privacy policy lagging at 31.3%.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR THE ORGANIZATION

A Developing rating means your privacy programme is under way, but an auditor would find material gaps in your current posture. Because only 12 requirements are implemented and evidenced while 10 are implemented without evidence, your documentation does not yet match your operational practices. In retail and e-commerce, these gaps matter to the expectations of the California Privacy Protection Agency, particularly regarding consumer rights, notices, and sensitive personal information handling.

WHERE TO FOCUS FIRST

You must focus first on establishing foundational governance and fixing high priority gaps that are not yet started. Assigning formal ownership and building out core procedures will prevent enforcement risks. By turning your attention to areas with low scores like notices, governance, and opt-outs, you can rapidly lift your readiness level before regulators review your practices.

WHAT THIS REPORT IS

BASIS OF THIS REPORT AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

This report is the output of a self-assessment. The scores, readiness levels, gaps, analysis and recommendations in this report are derived solely from the information entered by the organization, and have not been independently reviewed, verified, tested or audited by Governance Docs. Governance Docs did not conduct an independent assessment of the organization, its controls or its operations.

The accuracy and completeness of the results depend entirely on the accuracy and completeness of the information provided. Governance Docs gives no assurance, certification or audit opinion, and accepts no liability for any inaccuracy, omission or deviation arising from that information, or for any decision taken, or not taken, in reliance on this report.

The report, including any AI-assisted analysis, is provided for guidance and planning only. It does not constitute legal, regulatory or other professional advice, and it does not replace an independent assessment or a certification audit.

A control that is running but cannot be evidenced scores 0.75, not 1.00. Auditors sample records, not intentions. Closing that distance is usually the fastest route to a higher score.

All assessment questions and guidance are original wording by Governance Docs. Clause and control references are used as identifiers; no text from the standard is reproduced. You need your own licensed copy of the standard to implement it.
